Dr. Fred R. Harris

*Former U.S. Senator
Professor Emeritus of Political Science, UNM*

Former Oklahoma U.S. Senator Fred Harris is a widely published author and Professor Emeritus of Political Science at the University of New Mexico, where he still directs the UNM Fred Harris Congressional Internship Program.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate in political science from the University of Oklahoma, he also received a Juris Doctorate degree with distinction from the same institution. He has been a Fulbright Scholar in both Mexico and Uruguay, directed UNM programs in London, Spain, Mexico, and Costa Rica, and has been designated an Eminent Scholar by the New Mexico Commission on Higher Education. He received the University of New Mexico Alumni Association award as the Outstanding Faculty Member for 2000 and the following year was named the Best Professor at the University of New Mexico in a student survey conducted by the university newspaper.

Dr. Harris was twice elected to the U.S. Senate from Oklahoma (1964-1973), served as National Chair of the Democratic Party (1969-1970), and was a member of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders-Kerner Commission (1967-1968). He was an unsuccessful candidate for his party's presidential nomination in 1976.

A prolific author, Dr. Harris has produced eighteen books on government, politics, and public policy, including Locked in the Poorhouse: Cities, Race, and Poverty in the United States. He is also an award-winning author of three novels.
