SUMMER TERM 2021		Tuesday and Thursday Evenings, 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.
Location:	On-Line via Zoom	Office Hours:	By Appointment Via Zoom
Instructor:	Steven G. Meilleur, Ph.D., SPHR	E-mail:	smeilleur@unm.edu (Primary Contact)

1. COURSE OVERVIEW:

This course is a graduate level general introduction to the theory and practice of effective management of nonprofit organizations, with a heavy emphasis on practical application. Real world examples and experiences will be used to ensure that the academic lessons translate to the nonprofit experience. We will address some of the pertinent management issues of the often-overlooked trillion-dollar nonprofit sector (also known as the Third Sector) that includes education, research, health care, art, culture, religion, communications, social welfare and services, advocacy, legal services, international assistance, foundations and mutual benefit professional and trade associations.

As a survey course, particular attention will be given to discussion and critique of the theoretical and practical issues that must be addressed both by public and nonprofit human resources managers, and agency management/supervisory personnel in effectively managing disputes and conflict in today's workplace. A variety of topics in nonprofit management are covered, providing a thorough introduction and understanding to the significant issues of the sector. Topics include: nonprofit strategy, board governance, executive leadership, managing employees and volunteers, marketing, fundraising, social enterprise, and accountability of nonprofit organizations in America. And, why would anybody work for such a crazy place? Students will be exposed to theory and criticism of the sector as well as real-world application via case studies, field work, and guest speakers.

2. COURSE OBJECTIVES:

This course will provide the opportunity to increase your understanding and awareness of how managers in non-profit organizations can effectively management non-profits to effectively and efficiently deliver services and products to their constituents, clients, customers, and the public. Upon successful completion of the course, students can expect to have:

- A conceptual framework for understanding the role of NPOs in a market economy and democratic society;
- An understanding of major issues and concerns that shaped the nonprofit sector and currently influence the field;
- Knowledge of nonprofit management methods and practices;
- An understanding of laws and standards applicable to nonprofit organizational management;
- Increased awareness of nonprofit sector values; and
- Experience in analyzing management dilemmas and proposing responses.

3. CLASS METHODOLOGY AND LEARNING APPROACH:

The course may utilize a variety of learning opportunities during the times that we meet, including lecture, discussion, individual and group exercises, case study analysis, videos, student research and presentations, and guest speakers as available. The course is focused on exploring the current and future challenges of nonprofit organization (NPO) management, and on developing the critical thinking skills required of agency managers/administrators/supervisors in today's fast-paced and rapidly changing non-profit environment.

Productive participation and discussion requires that students come prepared for each class meeting to explore the assigned readings and case studies with their thoughtful critique and evaluation of the content, to be augmented by reflections on their own work experiences and additional reading as required. You are encouraged to share your own professional experience as employees, managers, volunteers and administrators, as it will enliven class discussions and lead to a better learning environment. Criteria for judging class participation include (1) cognitive dimensions, (2) expressive elements, (3) affective elements, and (4) contribution of comments to the process of group learning.

Ground Rules for a Positive Classroom Environment and Experience

For learning to occur when the class material is controversial, both tension and safety need to exist. There needs to be a safe classroom environment, so that students understand that they can speak their minds, and so that everyone feels comfortable and free to articulate ideas or viewpoints. Such a learning environment helps students to:

- Develop their abilities to understand the perspectives of others;
- Develop mutual respect;
- Make a commitment to understand positions that they do not understand from the context or point of view of their peers;
- Take risks in speaking honestly in the class in the service of their learning.

Expected class norms to enhance a safe learning environment include:

- Students should respect confidentiality-personal information or student comments should not get shared outside the classroom;
- Students should listen respectfully to different perspectives-let people finish sentences before responding;

- Students should respond to what has been said, not the person saying it-responses should not be personalized;
- Students should speak for themselves and not for others (including groups to which they belong);
- Students have the right to be silent in large group discussions.

Class discussion allows for disagreement; however, comments must be sustained by evidence, in particular evidence from class materials and readings. Class comments are not to be unsupported assertions of opinion, and never ad hominem (personal) attacks. Incivility or rudeness of any kind is unacceptable. This includes carrying on conversations during class, checking cell phones or other electronic devices for messages, texting, and other distractions. The bottom line is this – my expectation is that you behave professionally at all times in class.

4. COURSE MANAGEMENT:

As a survey course, we will address new topics each session, endeavoring to understand their relationships as we discuss, analyze, and critique leadership theory and practice. I will utilize UNM Learn to post the course syllabus, course assignments, lecture notes, and discussions, as well as some email messaging. Primarily, students should use my regular UNM e-mail account to communicate and send assignments electronically. DO NOT submit your papers to me via UNM Learn Mail. Finally, students will be able to access Supplemental Readings online at the class UNM Learn site. Please do not hesitate to contact me with your course questions or problems.

As a student you are responsible for:

- Being prepared to discuss assigned course readings and exercises, and contribute to class each session.
- Contributing to and assisting with the learning of your classmates.
- Making up any missed readings, exercises, and assignments made or due during his/her absence.
- Reading for understanding the textbook chapters, supplemental readings, and exercises before class and actively participate in class discussions.
- Finding connections with your professional experiences and aspirations; consider the conceptual relationships among topics in the course and the practical application of course material to HR management.
- Regularly check the UNM Learn course homepage for updates, announcements, and new assignments.
- Preparing all written assignments per instructions in the syllabus and submit them per the course schedule.
- Take charge of what you want to get out of the course. You can explore a new topic or challenge to satisfy a curiosity. Alternatively, you can pick something close to your field of study or career goals and build on short- and medium-term needs for your intellectual or professional development.

5. COURSE SCHEDULE AND ASSIGNMENTS:

NOTE: All reading assignments must be completed prior to class. If a class is missed, it is solely the responsibility of the student to review the recording of the class (if available) and to obtain notes, handouts, and summary of lesson/class activities, and to learn the covered material. Every written assignment must have compelling evidence of being proofread. See Graduate Writing Guidelines Rubric on UNM Learn Course Homepage.

Because I am not sure how rapidly we will proceed through the different modules of this course, the course schedule is subject to revision and should always be considered to be in draft form. Therefore, the actual timeline of the course topics and discussions held in class may change as the semester progresses, and you are encouraged to give me feedback about your learning needs.

For many of the class sessions, I will seek guest speakers, skill-building simulations, or other opportunities to promote learning based on students’ interests. Not all of these activities appear on the course schedule below.

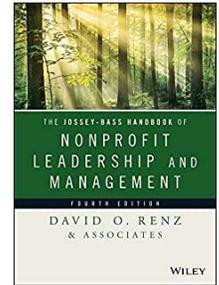

THIS SYLLABUS AND SCHEDULE IS SUBJECT TO REVISION AT THE INSTRUCTOR’S SOLE DISCRETION, AND SHOULD ALWAYS BE CONSIDERED TO BE IN DRAFT FORM. CONFIRM DEADLINES IN CLASS.

INCOMPLETE POLICY

Students are expected to behave in a professional manner and to turn in all materials at the designated time. In accordance with university regulations, a grade of “Incomplete” will only be given when the quality of work is satisfactory, but a minor yet essential requirement of the course has not been completed for reasons acceptable to the instructor. Requests for a grade of “I” must be submitted in writing to the instructor no later than the date of the last class session of the term. Such requests must include a proposed timeline for submitting the work required for completing the course, and you will be required to adhere to that timeline once it is agreed to by the instructor. Failure to do so may result in a grade of “F” for the course.

WRITING QUALITY

This is a writing intensive course. Although I am far more concerned about substance than form, please keep in mind that this is, after all, a professional, graduate level course. All of your written assignments should be prepared with the attention due to a professional presentation and expected from a Master’s degree candidate. Yes, this means grammar and punctuation, too. Written assignments require proofreading and editing prior to submission, with attention to correct grammar, spelling, punctuation, paragraphs, and sentence structure. (See the Purdue University OWL site {link on UNM Learn course homepage} for further assistance).

NOTE that writing competency is extremely important in graduate school, as well as in your professional career. The grade penalty is significant for lack of simple proofing of grammar and spelling on all assignments, and for a lack of attention to professional writing and presentation of your paper. As a graduate student and a current and/or aspiring leader in public administration, you have a responsibility to the profession and those you will be representing to write professionally.

It is wise to have a friend serve as an editor to proofread your written assignments. If you struggle with writing, I strongly encourage you to use the services of The University of New Mexico Center for Academic Program Support (CAPS). CAPS provides a variety of writing resources for graduate students (see <http://caps.unm.edu/writing>). The OGS Graduate Resource Center (GRC) also provides dedicated services available for any graduate or professional student engaged in most writing and research projects. The URL for that website is <http://caps.unm.edu/writing/grad>. Take this task seriously and consult the University of New Mexico OGS Graduate Resource Center (GRC) for assistance – the investment of time will pay off for you in the future.

FORM OF WRITTEN PAPERS AND APA STYLE

All papers are required to follow current APA Style Format. Please submit all written papers via my UNM e-mail account to me, in MS Word format. DO NOT submit your papers to me via UNM Learn Mail. I will provide feedback to you on your written work using the MS-Word “Comments” function. Please let me know in advance if you use a word processor other than MS Word – in that case, you will probably need to submit your papers in RTF format.

I have included an annotated sample APA Style paper for reference on the UNM Learn course homepage. My favorite website for APA Style is the Purdue University OWL site; I have included the url for this excellent website on the UNM Learn Course Homepage.

The Purdue OWL site also has excellent resources to improve your writing, as well as and reference material on conducting basic primary and secondary research. For further guidelines, refer to Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, Current Edition. The APA Manual provides answers to all level of detail regarding citations of references, grammar, and other related issues. The APA is a widely held standard for manuscripts in the social sciences, including Public Administration, and is a frequent standard for graduate-level writing.

- THIS IS IMPORTANT! All written assignments submitted electronically need to follow this naming convention for your document file that you submit electronically: LAST NAME, FIRST INITIAL, ASSIGNMENT TITLE, PA525. For example: Smith_S_Current NPO Issues_PA538. DO NOT MAKE THE TITLE TOO LONG !!!
- 1. Proper reference sources MUST be cited for your outside reference materials. Proper academic reference sources include primary and secondary research, journal articles (refereed, juried, or peer reviewed), professional and trade journals, abstracts, research reports and dissertations. Wikipedia is NOT a legitimate academic reference.
- NOTE: Paper length guidelines do NOT include your title page, abstract page, bibliography of references, or appendices. The guidelines refer to the length of the body of the paper.

7. ASSIGNMENTS AND COURSE DELIVERABLES

1. NONPROFIT ORGANIZATION MANAGEMENT JOURNAL PROJECT -

For each class session, you are required to keep a journal of your thoughts regarding the readings. You will be expected to write about a 2-3-page entry (on average) for each of the class sessions. If you miss a class session, you are still expected to make an entry in your journal. This assignment is designed to provide structure and discipline to your interactions with the text, class discussions, readings assigned during the course, as well as opportunities to learn from and interact with your colleagues. The Journals will be submitted at mid-term, and then again at the end of the semester. You should focus on the following for each class session and topic(s) covered:

1. What are the important principles in the assigned readings, and other readings available on the course homepage?
2. How are the principles, concepts or methods presented in the readings applied in your own work environment (or a familiar organization)?

Compare and support your analysis and discussion with material from the text, readings and other outside reference sources. For each of the entries you should have 2 sections:

1. Significant insights and practical applications from class. What new concepts, skills, models, approaches or ideas stand out for you as particularly interesting and provocative? Why are they so significant to you and the organization you work for? How can you utilize the new ideas or apply some of the skills, and become a more effective public manager or leader?
2. Significant insights and practical applications from the readings – including current events, the text, readings provided by the instructor, and other readings you seek out on your own. What new ideas or tools strike you as particularly interesting and stimulating? Why are these ideas or tools so significant to you and the organization you work for? How does it change what you think or do? How might you apply it in your work?

In both sections, you should try to make connections between the material presented in class and the readings and relate it to your personal and professional experience. While there is no minimum number of required APA cited academic reference sources for each journal entry, you are expected to have appropriate outside references for each entry.

FINALLY, AT THE END OF THE JOURNAL, you must also include a separate section that is a self-reflective essay that relates your learning from the course to your professional growth. Drawing upon your own past experiences and future ambitions explore the nature of your identity as a current and/or future public administrator, manager, and leader in your organization and community, with particular focus on what you have learned about nonprofit organization management.

While the Journal need not be in “pure” APA format, follow APA guidelines as closely as is appropriate for formatting, in-text citations, list of references, etc.

2. GROUP/TEAM NPO CASE ANALYSIS PAPER

The purpose of the Case Analysis Paper is to apply the theory and concepts from the seminar to a practical, applied case assigned by the instructor and posted on the UNM Learn course homepage. This case analysis should be done in teams of between 2 to 4 students. To analyze a case, you critically examine the organizational and employee issues confronted in the case. Most often you will need to read the case several times - once to grasp the overall picture of the situation and then to discover and understand the specific problems, dynamics, and work environment from the case. The case analysis requirements are as follows:

- Develop an overview of the case that summarizes the situation, NPO management & organizational issues in the case, and dynamics of the management transition facing the organization.
- Analyze the case based on management theory and practice as presented in the textbook and supplemental readings, with a focus on how the case helps us better understand management functions and processes in nonprofit organizations.
- Recommend a course of action to address the problems and/or issues presented in the case.
- Use a minimum of 2 assessment tools discussed in class, included in the handout folders, or from other resources you identify in your analysis of the NPO in the case.

Use APA Style. In at least sixteen (16) pages, support your analysis with material from the text and other outside reference sources. A minimum of eight (8) outside reference sources must be used and properly cited in APA style.

3. GROUP NPO CASE STUDY ANALYSIS PROJECT PRESENTATION

In the final class session, students/teams will make a brief, formal presentation and discuss their Group NPO Case Study Analysis project's approach, findings, and recommendations. This review will provide students with an opportunity to present and discuss their evaluations of NPOs and will permit students to integrate the knowledge presented in previous sessions and apply it in the review of their assessment of the assigned NPO case.

4. DISCRETIONARY GRADE (ATTENDANCE, PARTICIPATION, CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE CLASS)

This is, in large part, a skills course, so it is crucial to attend class, participate, and read the assignments. There is an inherent tension in this course between giving you opportunities to engage in participatory activity and my delivering course content through lecture-discussion. I often feel we never have enough time for either! As a result, I will not be able to cover through lecture everything that I assign in reading, but you will be held responsible for it.

Ongoing student participation is encouraged and will be assessed as a part of the total course grade. Participation is reflected by course attendance, presentations, and contributions to discussions, particularly in analyzing and critiquing assigned readings and cases. The student's contribution to course discussions will be assessed in terms of the quantity and quality of the contribution, demonstrating critical thinking and analysis skills as opposed to the number of times a student speaks up in class. Therefore, it is important for students to be prepared for course discussions and presentations.

8. POLICY STATEMENTS: UNIVERSITY AND COURSE POLICIES

University policies are provided in the current course catalog and course schedules. They are also available on the university website. This class is governed by the university's published policies. The following policies are of particular interest:

Academic Honesty

The university is committed to high standards of academic honesty. Students will be held responsible for violations of these standards. Please refer to the university's academic honesty policies for a definition of academic dishonesty and potential disciplinary actions associated with it. In preparing written assignments, students need to be aware of the UNM Student Code of Conduct governing academic dishonesty, particularly plagiarism (see below). It is a violation University policy to claim credit for work not done or done by others or misrepresenting the work as your own. There are numerous sources available through the UNM website to help you better understand the rules. (See the Pathfinder, Student Code of Conduct, 2.4.)

Plagiarism

It is often an unintentional mistake, but plagiarism continues to be a problem given our easy access to the internet and the availability of tools to copy and paste to your computer. It is even more problematic to paraphrase the work of another author and not acknowledge the source. If you are unsure, cite the source and avoid any suggestion of plagiarism. Recognize that any wording presented in a paper without quotation marks or other citation is considered to be your own work. Students who are discovered cheating or committing plagiarism will be awarded a failing grade for the course and may be subject to dismissal from the SPA program or other further discipline. Assignments and/or research projects may, at the instructor's discretion, be submitted to one of several online services that search for plagiarism from the World Wide Web and from various term paper companies that sell term papers via the World Wide Web. Students who are discovered cheating or committing plagiarism may be awarded a failing grade for the course and may be subject to dismissal or further discipline by the university. Assignments and/or research projects may, at the instructor's discretion, be submitted to one of several online services that search for plagiarism from the World Wide Web and from various term paper companies that sell term papers via the World Wide Web. All citations must be conform with current APA Style Guidelines (See FORM OF WRITTEN PAPERS AND APA STYLE above).

Drops and Withdrawals

In the event that you choose to drop or withdraw from the course, it is YOUR responsibility, not the instructor's. Please be aware that, should you choose to drop or withdraw from this course, the date on which you notify UNM of your decision will determine the amount of tuition refund you receive. Please refer to the university policies on drops and withdrawals (published elsewhere) to find out what the deadlines are for dropping a course with a full refund and for withdrawing from a course with a partial refund.

Disturbances

Since every student is entitled to full participation in class without interruption, disruption of class by inconsiderate behavior is not acceptable. Students are expected to treat the instructor and other students with dignity and respect, especially in cases where a diversity of opinion arises. Students who engage in disruptive behavior are subject to disciplinary action, including removal from the course.

Class Attendance Policy

Students are expected to attend all class sessions, and full participation in the class is expected. In the case of unavoidable absences, the student must contact the instructor in advance. The student is subject to appropriate academic penalty for incomplete or unacceptable makeup work or for excessive or unexcused absences. It is the student's responsibility to secure all missed work and assignments. Students who are unable to complete course requirements because of illness or other justifiable circumstances may be allowed to take an incomplete grade in those cases where a major portion of the work (more than 50%) has been successfully completed.

Accommodations

Anyone requiring special accommodation or assistive technology is asked to advise Dr. Meilleur within the first two weeks of class, so that reasonable accommodation may be provided through the University. The School of Public Administration is committed to providing all necessary and feasible accommodation to students with disabilities so that they may fully participate in and contribute to their classes. Confidentiality will be maintained as indicated by the student's circumstances.

11. FINAL REMARKS FROM DR. MEILLEUR

The more you put into this class, the more you will take from it. Reviewing scholarly work, pondering concepts, and making sense of theory in practice can be painful and time-consuming. I understand this! There will be times when your brain hurts. That's a good thing. Take it as a sign that some good learning is going on. In fact, good learning is often confusing and uncomfortable before it becomes fun. If you keep up with readings, actively engage in class dialogues and activities, and constantly seeking feedback and advice from your colleagues and course instructor, you should have a rewarding experience in this course.
